Tempo Snappy, Dancers Happy

By Marie McNair

THE VENEZUELAN Embassy, beautiful setting for any party, was as glamorous as a Hollywood set last night.

Lovely ladies in shimmering satins swirled about the white and gold ballroom with their partners. Erwin Devon's music kept up a snappy tempo all through the night and there was an elaborate supper after midnight.

Ambassador Cesar Gonzalez and Senora de Gonzalez were entertaining in honor of Chief of Protocol and Mrs. Wiley Buchanan, with a dinner in their honor for almost 40 guests beforehand.
